Western's Hilltoppers go into tonight's Dad's Night game against the Morehead Eagles holding a season's record of one win and two defeats. Coach Jack Clayton's team lost the first game of the campaign to Middle Tennessee at Murfreesboro, Tenn., in an Ohio Valley Conference clash, 13-0.

In that loss the Hilltoppers dominated every statistical department, except the scoring column.

The Hilltoppers came back against East Tennessee two weeks ago in the opening game here in the Western Stadium to smash a strong Buccaneer eleven, 32-13, with a tremendous showing of power both on the ground and in the air.

Last Saturday night the Hilltoppers met Stetson University at Deland, Fla. Western led 7-6 at the half as the Hilltoppers came smashing back in the second period when Whitey Sanders capped a long drive with a nine-yard pass to Bill Ploumis in the end zone. Sanders then kicked the extra point.

Western could not stave off the racing Hatters in the last half as Stetson racked up markers in each of the final two periods. All three extra points were missed but the Hatters didn't need them.

Tonight's meeting with the Morehead Eagles is an OVC game. Tennessee Tech, defending co-champion of the league along with the Hilltoppers, is currently tied with the Eastern Maroons for the lead. Both Western and Morehead are on the bottom, each with one loss and no wins in conference play.

After the first three games, Western's returning stars from the great 1952 team are the big guns in the Hilltopper attack and the stalwarts in the line. Gene McFadden is again the leading ground gainer, followed closely by Max Stevens and Ray Nutter.

Stevens is the leading scorer and Bill Ploumis is the top pass catcher.

In the line Marvin Satterly is the standout he has been over the past three years at a guard post. Tom Patterson and Arnie Oaken are the same rugged performers along with Jerry Passafiume, Ed Worley and Jim Phifer.

HILLTOPPERS MEET EAGLES 11th TIME

Morehead's Eagles invade the Western Stadium tonight for the renewal of a fierce gridiron rivalry begun back in 1939. This Dad's Night game will mark the Hilltoppers fourth game of the 1953 campaign and their second Ohio Valley Conference clash of the season.

Over the past 14 years the two elevens have met eleven times. Western has emerged victorious nine times, Morehead once and one game resulted in a deadlock.

Last season at Morehead the unbeaten Hilltoppers, marching towards their most successful season in history, rolled up the greatest score in the series by thrashing the Eagles 39-7 for Western's third triumph of the campaign.

Coach Jack Clayton has back most of his stars which led the steamroller attack against the Eagles with the exception of Jimmy Feix, the great little quarterback, who has graduated.

Missing from the Morehead bench tonight will be the genial Ellis Johnson who coached the Eagles for so many years. Hilltopper fans who have enjoyed the fine coach's clowning antics will miss him. Johnson resigned as head coach at Morehead this last summer and was replaced by Wilbur "Shorty" Jamerson, former football great at the University of Kentucky from Henderson.

Jamerson's assistant, Silas "Si" Pruitt, is well known to Hilltopper fans. He was a star player on Western teams in the early '30's.

Western and Morehead first met back in 1939 on a cold, rainy afternoon in the Western Stadium. The Hilltoppers won 2-0 on a safety scored in the first quarter when Morehead's Garland Collins let a bad pass from center get away from him and Curley Pitman tackled him in the Eagle end zone.

The next year at Morehead the two teams battled to a 0-0 tie.

At Ashland in 1941, the Hilltoppers won 14-0 on a scoring pass from Dick Crouch to Bob Wilson in the first quarter and pass interception by Al Zimmerman in the fourth quarter. Zimmerman went 31 yards for the marker. John Mazola kicked both extra points.

Back in the Western Stadium in 1942, the two rivals met for the last time until after World War II. The Hilltoppers won 9-0 after a slam-bang battle for three quarters. In the final period Western got a touchdown and a safety to notch the win.

During 1943, '44 and '45 both schools discontinued football. In 1946 they were back at it again but Western did not dominate as in the past. Morehead came roaring back to break up the myth of having never crossed the Hilltopper goal line as a 36-7 win was registered.

In 1947 the Hilltoppers took command again in the Western Stadium as Ed Lach, Pat McNeil and Fred Clayton led Western to a 20-6 triumph.

At Morehead in 1948 the Hilltoppers were pushed to pull out a 19-14 win. Sonny Jones, Jim Pickens and Frank Wallheiser got the Hilltoppers' new T-formation installed by Coach Jack Clayton working to beat back the favored Eagles.

Morehead came out fighting in 1949 but the Hilltoppers were equal to the challenge and scored an impressive 19-0 in the Western Stadium.

Back at Morehead in 1950 the Hilltoppers went into the game a 70-point underdog on paper. Morehead had been impressive in scoring early season wins. When the smoke of battle cleared Western was on top 23-21 on the basis of a "Butch" Gilbert field goal to score what had appeared to be an impossible victory.

In 1951 it was another bruising battle in the Western Stadium before Western won again 20-7.

Then came the mighty machine which last rolled over the Eagles with ease, 39-7, and still has most of its key members in operation, plus some highly effective replacements for departed stars.
